

What Will The Advice Attorney Do For Me?

- The legal advocate will provide legal advice or educational information that will help you understand or resolve your situation.

The legal advocate may also provide information about other human services organizations which may be of help to you.

- In some cases the legal advocate will refer your case to another MidPenn advocate or a volunteer attorney through the local bar association.

MidPenn Legal Services provides free legal help in Adams, Bedford, Berks, Blair, Centre, Clearfield, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Mifflin, Perry, Schuylkill & York Counties.

What We Need To Know Before Giving Advice:

- Your Income. All persons who call for legal assistance must be eligible under the regulations set by our funding sources. When you call, your eligibility will be screened by an intake worker.

If you apply online, an intake worker will contact you for additional information.

If you are eligible for our services, you will be connected to a legal advocate to discuss your situation.

- Paperwork. Before calling, be sure to have any paperwork, letters, leases, contracts, etc., regarding your problem with you. The legal advocate may ask for this information.
